Title:

Shellfish Retail Record Keeping

Recommended Solution: The Conference recommends...:

that a letter be sent to FDA recommending:

1) Modification of Section 3-203.12(A) of the 2013 FDA Food Code as indicated below from a Priority Foundation to a Priority Violation (language to be added is underlined; language to be deleted is in strikethrough format).

3-203.12 Shellstock, Maintaining Identification.

(A) Except as specified under Subparagraph (C) (2) of this section, SHELLSTOCK tags or labels shall remain attached to the container in which the SHELLSTOCK are received until the container is empty. ~~Pf~~ P

2) The FDA begin discussions with the ISSC and Conference for Food Protection to identify steps that can be taken to enhance implementation and enforcement of shellfish record keeping at retail establishments.

It is the policy of the Conference for Food Protection to not accept Issues that would endorse a brand name or a commercial proprietary process.

Issue 2016-I-023 included two recommendations:

1. Modification of Section 3-203.12(A) of the 2013 FDA Food Code from a Priority Foundation to a Priority Violation.
  - FDA, upon further review, thought that changing the criticality code would create inconsistency in the Food Code. FDA requested concurrence from the Executive Board of CFP. The Executive Board of CFP did not concur. FDA decided not to include the change in the Food Code.
2. The FDA begin discussions with the ISSC and Conference for Food Protection to identify steps that can be taken to enhance implementation and enforcement of shellfish record keeping at retail establishments.
  - The ISSC, FDA, and CFP are discussing plans to accomplish recommendation (2).
